I am raising money to take part in a sail training adventure organised by Sail Training International.

Sail Training International is the world's leading organiser of the annual Tall Ships Races and Regattas. It is a charity that works with the world's sail training Tall Ships, national sail training organisations and host ports, to help young people (like me!) benefit from a unique sail training challenge.

My fundraising adventure starts here!

Please can you help me to fund the cost of my travel and ship berth.
